A REMARKABLE CASE

The Indictment of a Lone Woman for Extensive Incendiarism.

FINED FOR GOV. FORAKER'S SAKE.

The Work of Recovering the Bodies of the Flood Victims.

ALL THE NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 WESTON, W. VA., October 24.-The grand jury of the Circuit Court to-day returned an indictment for arson against one Amanda Wilmouth, a woman whose case is without a parallel in this section of the country. For more than a year, prior to September, the woman, in company with small child-a girl-lived in a cave in the southern part of the county, subsisting on roots, herbs and such vegetables as she could steal from the surrounding farmers.

No one knew where she came from o who she was, and as she was not particularly objectionable to anyone, no attention was paid to her. A short time after her appearpaid to her. A short time after her appearance in the county, incendiary fires began to break out, a number of farmers losing baros, outbulklings, haystacks, etc. No one thought of blaming the miserable woman with the origin of the firet, but in September she was caught in the act of setting fire to a haystack. She was arrested, and after being confined in jail for about six weeks, has been indicted as stated. She gave the officers arresting her the name of Amanda Wilmouth, but refused to state where she came from, or to answer any questions concerning her identity. She is about 35 years of age, fairly good-locking and has a good education, judging from her conversation,

Farmers Are Again Being Robbed by Mem bers of the McClellandtown Band.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. UNIONTOWN, October 24 .- The "McClellandtown gang" of robbers are again terrorizing the citizens of the southeastern part of the county. Thomas Ramsey, who has been dodging the officers for several months, and three companions have built a rude cabin in a deep ravine near the top of the mountain above panions have built a rude can in a deep ravine near the top of the mountain above Haydentown. The cabin is said to be on the dividing line between this State and West Virginia. The country surrounding is wild and rocky, and the niding place is quite a distance from any habitation or roadway. They go around the country armed with repeating rifles and revolvers. The farmers in that section are afraid to go any distance from their homes even in daylight.

Hogs, calves, cattle, sheep, chickens, etc., are carried off indiscriminately, and daylight robberies are common occurrences. At one farmhouse they demanded $10, and on failing to secure this amount they went to the stable and cut a set of harness into small pieces. At another place they broke up a buggy and threw it into a fence corner. So completely is the reign of terror, or at least the writer was so informed by one of the victims, that the people are afraid to take any steps whatever to bring the offenders to justice, although they may see them carry off a pig or a sheep in broad daylight, lest what little property they have amassed, by years of hard labor, should be burned, or the informant waylaid and killed.

be the headquarters of two fields. To both points Pennsylvania oil operators are rushing in great numbers. Derricks are going up like magic, and the farmer has, for the present at least, abandoned his peaceful pursuits, and is reveiling in dreams of repetitions of the big find on the Widow Steek farm in Venango county, Pa., which made "Coal-Oil Johnny" Steele so fabulously rich. abulously rich.

Property in the vicinity of Mannington is having such a boom as neve was dreamed of before. Lots that could have been bought a week ago for $300 or $400 are now being held at $1,000. One man, a week ago, offered to sell his little home and the ground surrounding it for little home and the ground surrounding it for $700, but could not get a bidder. This week he refused an offer of $1,500. Bonuses of from $25 to $200 are being offered for leases on property adjoining the town.

Last Monday a week ago a 25-acre piece, four miles from town, was sold for $900. The next day it was sold for $4,000, and now the owner is offered $2,500 for it.

The town is full of strangers, every incoming passenger train is crowded, and the hotels are filled to overflowing. The Standard Oil Company is represented by several advance agents, and smaller corporations are doing their best to secure a foothoid.

WORK OF RECOVERY.

Governor Benver Has Granted the Use of the Pools at Johnstown.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. JOHNSTOWN, October 24.—Thirty more bodies of flood victims were lifted and reinterred today. But three were identified, one being a child of Mrs. Fenn, who lost her husband and seven children. The body of a middle-aged, heavy-set German was buried on whom was found a gold ring marked "Gott schutzedich" (God preserve you). The committee in charge of reinterring the dead request those having lost friends to send by mail a complete description of them as soon as possible.

The tools used by the State forces in searching for the dead have been kindly loaned by Governor Beaver to those now having charge of the work. This will facilitate matters very greatly. The force will be increased to-mo and work will be continued during the fine weather.

The public reception to Miss Clara Barton to-night was largely attended, people of all classes calling to pay their respects to the kind lady who so nobly befriended them in their great trouble.

NOW NEW CASTLE BAS IT.

A Natural Gas War to be Inaugurated in That Community.

PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.; NEW CASTLE, October 24.-Consumers of natural gas in this city are being notified by the Shenango Gas Company that the company desires to terminate all existing contracts on November 30, from which date a material advance in the price will be made. The company was granted the privilege of laying its pipes in New Castle on the condition that it furnish gas at Pittsburg prices, and as the new rate is much higher, it is likely the City Council will see if the ordinance granting the company per-mission cannot be repealed, and the company made to take up its pipes.

A regular Erie gas war is anticipated in New Castle.

ONE DEMOCRATIC OUTRAGE.

A Buckeye Republican Fined Because He Shouted for Fornker.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 ZANESVILLE. October 24.-At a Democratic meeting at Roseville, addressed by Campbell, candidate for Governor, and Alien O. Myers, Red Arter ventured his political sentiments by shouting for Foraker. He was promptly arrested, the efficer making the arrest preferring the charge "disturbing a public gathering and shouting for Foraker."

Arter stated that he would plead guilty to shouting for Foraker, but declined to plead guilty to disturbing the meeting. The charge was accordingly medified to read "shouting for Foraker," to which Arter plead guilty and was fined $6.40.

HE BIT THE HAT.

The Very Serious Termination to a Boylsh Hunting Expedition.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.; Lima, October 24.-Two boys, Herley Fox, aged Il years, and Willie Staley, aged 7 years, were out hunting to-day near Arington. Fox carried the gun, and when they had entered the woods a short distance he asked little Staley to put his hat upon a stump and let him shoot at it. The little fellow was about placing the lat on the stump when Fox fired.

He bit the hat, but filled young Staley full of shot, too. His hands and face were terribly lacerated. He was carried home, where his wounds were dressed by a physician. He may subly recover.

A Rural Postoffice Robbed. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW FLORENCE, October 24.-W. F. Lord, the postmaster, found the postoffice already open when he presented himself for work this morning. An investigation showed that someone had taken a jimmy and forced the lock of the outer door during the night; that they had gone into the postoffice and ransacked the mail matter, and had taken money from the money drawer and divers articles from the merchandise in the rear part of the store.

LAUGHING AT DIFFICULTIES. Young Couple Wedding After Encounter

ing a Legal Obstacle. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. YOUNGSTOWN, October 24.-Wilbur Blight and Miss Nora Lee, a young couple residing at North Benton, this county, made arrangements to-day to be married by Rev. D. V. Mays, near Pittsburg. They left home before daylight, and on arriving at Pittsburg were unable to secure a license, for the reason that Miss Lec was not of the required age.

The couple returned to Youngstown on the next train and obtained a license here, the law requiring the bride to be only 18 years of age. They were speedily married by Rev. Dr. Evans, and left for home to-night.

SAMOANS SING WAR SONGS.

H. Low, in Broadway, near Twenty-third street,

Party of Them Arrive in New York, En Route for Europe. NEW YORK, October 24.—The office of Edwin looked something like a dime museum yesterday afternoon when the Samoan warriors i charge of R. A. Cunningham went there to se-cure their steamship tickets for Europe. There are nine in the party. They are of medium height, square-shouldered and muscular. Their names are Chief Stafu, one of the leaders in the rescue of the American sailors at the time of the hurricane last March; Manogia, Leasuasu, Mua, Letungaifo, Lealed, the poet of the party, who composes impromptu songs on any occasion; Tu, Foi and Tasita. The chief and four of his companiors were partisans of Mataafa in the recent war. The other four were followers of Tamasese. They all have intelligent faces, their hair is iong, bushy and naturally black, but they bleach it until it is of a brick color. At home their principal clothing is occoanut oil and a breech clout of tafacioth made from the bark of the mulberry. They have chosen clother more suitable to this climate, however, wearing blankets and mocassins. They tattoo themselves in one solid color below the hips, the prevailing tint being blue. The warriors yesterday seated themselves in a row on the floor and took up a war song, started by the poet, to the music of two mulberry sticks. They kept perfect time both in their singing and in the movements of their bodies. They left Apia last June and are now on their way to Germany. Mr., Cunningham says that they are the first Samoans ever seen in this country. He wished to show them here, but could make no satisfactory arrangements, although Barnum offered $250 a week for them. Mr. Cunningham did not consider this country. American line. tion Seems to Feel That Way. Louis, October 24.-The Inter-State Wheat Growers' Convention met again the forenoon with Colonel N. J. Colman, the pe manent President in the chair. Robert Linthom, Chicago wheat speculator, made a speec in which he gave the speculators' side of the wheat question. President Colman then ad dressed the convention from a free trade stand point, denounced the way the farmers are use by the present administration in its protective policy and said the only way to protect the interest was to adopt free trade. He assaile

the confession Collom is said to have made when first confronted with the notes. He said that Collom repeatedly confessed that not one of the 60 notes out was genuine; that when reminded by Cashier Chamberlain that at least one was genuine, as he had seen Blaisdell sign it, Collom contessed that he had destroyed the genuine and replaced it with a forged one. It is thought that Mr. Davis' testimony will have a telling effect upon the jury.

BEST ASSORTMENT

IN STORE FOR US.

The Silver lining that has long been seen by us, now gives way to a burst of sunlight intensely bright. So warm, so invigorating, so healthy is the pulse of trade, and has been since the opening of the Exposition, that it has tested the ability o our corps of salesmen to keep pace with the steady flow of customers to our place of business. True, many were no waited on several days last week owing to the great rush, but to-morrow we remedy that weak spot by the addition of se eral competent gentlemen. We have just received another carload of our
